

Gifts for Him... Father's Day Ideas

I have a 10-month-old son, so this will be our first year to celebrate Father's Day as parents. Dads like my husband deserve to be celebrated not just one day, but often! He's a 50/50 partner in our parenting journey, and I am blown away every day by how amazing he is with our son. No amount of gifts could fully show our appreciation for him, but it is still fun to surprise him with things I know he will love.
