Back-to-School Style

It seems like every year they start lining the shelves with school supplies earlier and earlier. As a teacher, I do not necessarily look forward to resetting that early morning alarm, but there is just something about a new school year beginning that presents so many opportunities! I love the excitement of a new outfit for the first day, purchasing new supplies, and getting back into a daily routine. Personally, I am a sucker for anything that makes my mornings smoother and more convenient. I am sharing some of my back to school essentials that will help you get back in the swing of things with ease!

Phone, wallet, keys— all at your wrist! These key rings have always been perfect for on-the-go but now include the capability to hook your phone to it, as well. Such a lifesaver for keeping track of all your personal belongings!

When you are just too tired to wash your hair in the middle of the week grab some of this powder! It's all natural and will leave it smelling fabulous.

Dry Shampoo available for $15 via Lavender & Thorne

A cup of coffee to start the day off right is a must! These mugs are perfect for on the go and for keeping your coffee hot all the way through the school drop-off line.

Making a lunch daily is on my list of least favorite things to do. Take the guesswork out of it by purchasing prepared meals that are delicious and healthy! There are even options that do not require being heated in a microwave for kids' lunches.

Snacks and Meals available via Heat It Up

Keeping track of what your family is eating is a full time job! Display it so everyone is on the same page for dinner with this magnetic meal planning notepad.
